ABOUT SIAM UNIVERSITY:

Founded officially in 1973 by Mr. Narong Mongkhonvanit PhD, Siam University established itself as a fully organized, private higher education institution of Bangkok under government regulation since 1986. With Air Chief Marshal Chalit Pukbhasuk, the Member of the Privy Council as Chairperson of the University Council and Mr. Pornchai Mongkhonvanit PhD, as President, Siam University has so far produced more than 75,000 graduates for Thailand.

In 2022, the campus of Siam University in Bangkok, supports 10,000 Thai, 500 students from overseas. The university provides Bachelor's Degrees, Master's Degrees and Doctoral Degrees in 45 programs, 14 Faculties and 1 Graduate School. A great number of programs are linked internationally with student exchange programs in Asia, Africa, Europe and the US.

Siam University was ranked Top 5 Sustainable Universities of Thailand, 102 th world rankings of 1050 sustainable universities, by UIGreenMetric in 2024. Also number one of Thailand private universities.

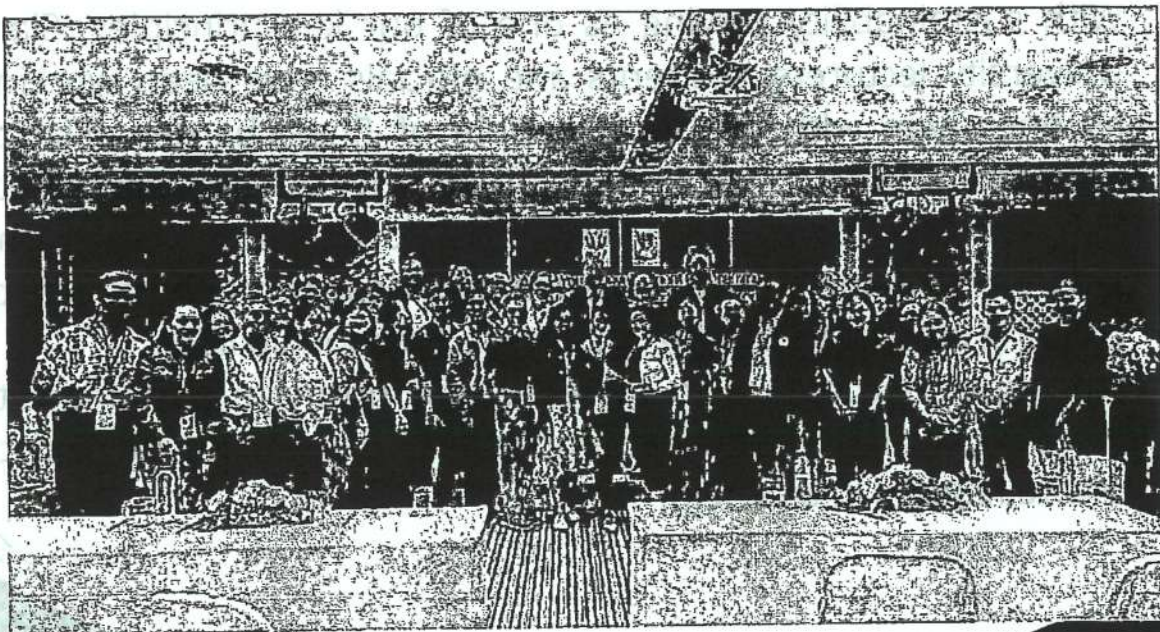

With sustainability serving as one of our key principles, Siam University lecturers, students and officials have been working as one team with the local people of Phasicharoen district, Government Saving Bank and other government or private sectors. Our partnership with the local people save the environment and cultivate sustainable ideas through the use of creating innovative tooling and shared responsibilities.

We hope to continue to increase and promote sustainability throughout the University campus and beyond, to be and to create leaders in this field.

The AUAP offers a diverse range of activities for both staff and students. These include faculty and student development programs, the AUAP Goodwill Ambassador initiative, leadership training at the UN, joint research projects, forums, and networking events. We also conduct the AUAP Faculty Development Program, faculty exchange programs, the Asia-Pacific Student Summer and Faculty Development Program, faculty leadership programs, quality assurance and accreditation rankings training, sports competitions, the WFUNA International Model United Nations, and a global student summer camp. For students specifically, we organize English speech and debate competitions, global leadership training, student exchange programs, and academic Olympiads. We have developed a tool to assess institutional readiness for implementing internationalization programs. Additionally, the AUAP launched its Quality Assurance Instrument, designed to rate institutions based on self-evaluation. These tools are available for use by both members and non-members alike.
